Principal's Corner

What a glorious summer! I hope all of you are enjoying it and not even pondering the upcoming school year. I have been staying in contact with many of you through Facebook, and it's wonderful to see all the family time you are taking. I have been trying to do the same. Immediately after school was finished, my daughter, son, and I joined the St. Ann crew for the Love Begins Here mission trip to Reedsburg. This is my 3rd year as a chaperone, and I have to admit that I am feeling less and less like a chaperone and more like a true missionary. I spent my week doing a ton of weeding for a number of people, including the Cistercian nuns and a woman who had just finished chemo and did not have the energy to tend to her beautiful gardens. Despite the hard work, it was incredibly satisfying to feel that I had brought a smile to someone's face and to feel like I was truly doing God's work. Blessed Mother Teresa coined the phrase of doing small things with great love, and that is exactly what our mission was that week. It was also wonderful watching the kids, including my own, reflect and contemplate their faith as they attended Mass each morning and in the evening listened to the LBH core team describe how Christ is playing an active role in their own lives. It seems our young people don't ever have enough opportunities to just be themselves in their faith and to express their reverence and love of the Gospel. As your kids approach middle school, if they haven't already, I strongly encourage you to sign them up for the middle school LBH mission trips. You won't regret it.

Now that I have my first year under my belt, I'm very excited at looking for new opportunities for St. Ann's to continue growing, both in its faith and students. We were sad to hear of Martin Luther Christian School's suspension of its elementary school program. I have heard nothing but wonderful comments about the teachers and the faith-filled experiences at MLCS. I am happy to say that several MLCS families have turned to St. Ann's as a place where their children can continue to celebrate their Christian faith, and we are more than thrilled to welcome them here. Thanks to all of you who continue to spread the good news of what St. Ann's has to offer!

I'm also excited to officially welcome our new teachers to St. Ann's. Jennifer Dorr, our new First Grade teacher, whom I introduced at the end of the school year, is busy making herself at home in the classroom. In addition, I am thrilled to introduce our new middle school teacher, KeriAnn Rubin. KeriAnn and her husband recently relocated to Madison from the east coast where she taught in a small, Catholic school in Pennsylvania. KeriAnn recently finished her Master's in Curriculum and Instruction in Science Education and is anxious to dive into the middle school curriculum and continue developing hands-on experiences for her students. We welcome both of our new teachers to St. Ann's!

Watch for many more exciting updates and changes as the year unfolds. I can't wait to experience all the new energy and to see those happy faces in our halls and classrooms. Enjoy the rest of your summer!
